

STORROWTON CHURCH—Originally served as the "Union Meeting House" in Salisbury, N. H. Built in 1834.

Storowton Village, on the grounds of the Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield, Mass., consists of authentic original early American buildings grouped about a typical village green. Gracious hospitality is extended to visitors from May through October. Hostess guided tours, fine foods, charming rooms for tourists. The Village is the setting for the Home Department of the Exposition during show week in September each year.
